

Ground school for the Theoretical Knowledge Examinations

During your period of hour building you will embark on the ATPL theory with the material being supplied by our training partner Bristol Groundschool. Bristol Groundschool is well known in the industry as one of the best providers of theoretical knowledge training. Their programme is based on two modules of distance learning with a full back up to the instructors by email, telephone and fax.

Following the study period you will attend a 'brush up' course at Bristol prior to sitting the ATPL examinations at one of the CAA regional examination centres.

Once these exams are completed successfully you can commence the CPL module.
